The Presidency--Horatio Seymour's Letter Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

The following is Horatio Seymour's acceptance of the Democratic nomination for the Presidency.

Gentlemen: When in the city of New York, on the 11th ult., in presence of a vast multitude, on behalf of the National Democratic Convention, you tendered me the unanimous nomination as their candidate for the office of President of the United States, I stated I had no words adequate to express my gratitude for the good will and kindness which that body had shown me. Its nomination was unsought and unexpected. It was my ambition to take an active part, from which I am now excluded, in the great struggle going on for the restoration of good government, of peace and prosperity to our country. But I have been caught up by the whelming tide which is bearing us on to a great political change, and I find myself unable to resist its pressure.

You have also given me a copy of the resolutions put forth by the Convention, showing its position upon all the great questions which now agitate the country. As the presiding officer of that Convention, I am familiar with their scope and import. As one of its members, I am a party to their terms; they are in accordance with my views, and I stand upon them in the contest upon which we are now entering; and I shall strive to carry them out in future, wherever I may be placed, in political or private life. I then stated that I would send you these words of acceptance in a letter, as is the customary form.

I see no reason, upon reflection, to change or qualify the terms of my approval of the resolutions of the Convention.

I have delayed the more formal action of communicating to you in writing what I thus publicly said for the purpose of seeing what light the action of Congress would throw upon the interests of the country. Its action since the adjournment of the Convention show an alarm, lest a change of political power will give to the people what they ought to have—a clear statement of what has been done with the money drawn from them during the past eight years. Thoughtful men feel that there have been wrongs in the financial management which have been kept from the public knowledge. The Congressional party has not only allied itself with the military power, which is to be brought to bear directly upon the elections in many States, but holds itself in perpetual session, with the avowed purpose of making such laws as it shall see fit, in view of the elections which will take place within a few weeks. It did, therefore, not adjourn, but took a recess, to meet again if its partisan interests shall demand its reassembling. Never before in the history of our country has Congress thus taken a menacing attitude toward the electors. Under its influence some of the States organized by its agents are proposing to deprive the people of the right to vote for Presidential Electors, and the first bold steps are taken to destroy the rights of suffrage.

It is not strange, therefore that thoughtful men see in such action the proof that there are, with those who shape the policy of the Republican party, motives stronger and deeper than the mere wish to hold political power; that there is a dread of some exposure which drives them on to acts so desperate and so impolitic. Many of the ablest leaders and journals of the Republican party have openly deplored the violence of Congressional action and its tendency to keep up discord in our country.

The great interests of our Union demand peace and order, and a return to those international pursuits, without which we can not maintain the faith or honor of our Government. The minds of business men are perplexed by uncertainties. The hours of toil of our laborers are lengthened by the costs of living, made by the direct and indirect exactions of the Government. Our people are harassed by the frequent demands of the tax-gatherer. Without distinction of party, there is a strong feeling in favor of that line of action which shall restore order and confidence, and shall lift off the burdens which now hinder and vex the industry of this country. Yet, at this moment, those in power have thrown into the Senate chamber and the Congressional hall new elements of discord and violence. Men have been admitted as representatives of some of the Southern States with the declaration upon their lips that they cannot live in the States they claim to represent without military protection. These men are to make laws for the North as well as the South. These men, who, a few days since, were seeking as supplicants that Congress would give them power within their respective States, are here to-day the controllers of the actions of these bodies; entering them with minds viled with questions and demands that Congress shall look upon the States from which they come as in a condition of civil war, that the majority of their population, embracing their intelligence, shall be treated as public enemies; that the new state of things shall be kept up at the cost of the people of the North, and that there shall be no peace and order at the South, save that which is made by arbitrary power. Every intelligent man knows that they not only owe their present positions to disorder, but that every motive springing from the love of power, of gain, of a desire for vengeance, prompts them to keep the South in anarchy. While that exists they are independent of the will or the wishes of their fellow-citizens. While confusion reigns they are the dispensers of the profits and the honors which grow out of a government of mere force.

These men are now placed in positions where they can not only urge their views of politics, but where they can enforce them. When there shall be admitted in this manner members from the remaining Southern States, although they will have in truth, no constituents, they will have more votes in the Senate than a majority of the people of this Union living within the line of the great States. In vain, members of the Republican party protested against the policy that led to this result.

While the chiefs of the late rebellion have submitted to the result of the war, and are now quietly engaged in useful pursuits for the support of themselves and their families, and are trying, by the force of their example, to lead back the people of the South to the order and industry not only essential to their well-being, but to the greatness and prosperity of our community, all see that those who, without ability or influence, have been chosen by the agitators of civil convulsion into positions of honor and profit, are striving to keep alive the passions to which they owe their elevation; and they clamorously insist that they are the only friends of the Union. Proof of that can only have a sure foundation in a fraternal regard and a common desire to promote the peace, the order, and the happiness of all portions of our land.

Events in Congress since the adjournment of the Convention have vastly increased the importance of a political victory by those who are seeking to bring back economy, simplicity and justice in the administration of our national affairs. Many Republicans have heretofore clung to their party who have regretted the extremes of violence to which it has run. They have cherished a faith that while the actions of their political friends have been mistaken, their motives have been good. They must now see that the Republican party is in that condition that it cannot carry out a peaceful policy, whatever its motives may be.

It is a misfortune, not only to the country, but to the party itself, that its action is unchecked by any form of opposition. It has been the misfortune of the Republican party that the events of the past few years have given it so much power that it has been able to shackle the Executive, to trammel the Judiciary, and to carry out the views of the most unwise and violent of its members.

When this state of things exists in any party it has ever been found that the judgment of its ablest leaders do not control. There is hardly an able man who has helped to build up the Republican organization, who has not within the past three years, warned it against its excesses; who has not been borne down and forced to give up his convictions of what the interests of the country called for; or, if too patriotic to do this, who has not been driven from its ranks.

It has been the case heretofore, what will be its next action with this new inclusion of men, who, without a decent respect for the views of those who had just given them their positions, beginning their legislative career with calls for arms, and demands that States shall be regarded as in a condition of civil war, and a declaration that they are ready and anxious to degrade the President of the United States whenever they can persuade or force Congress to bring forward new articles of impeachment! The Republican party, as well as we, are interested in putting some check upon this violence. It must be clear to every thinking man that a division of political power tends to check the violence of party action, and assure the peace and good order of the country.

The election of a Democratic Executive and a majority of Democratic members to the House of Representatives would not give to that party organization power to make sudden or violent changes; but would serve to check those extreme measures which have been deplored by the best men of both organizations. The result would most certainly lead to that peaceful restoration of the Union and re-establishment of fraternal relationship which the country desire. I am sure the best men of the Republican party deplore as deeply as I do the spirit of violence shown by those recently admitted to seats in Congress. The condition of civil war which they contemplate, must be abhorrent to every right-thinking man.

I have no mere personal wishes which mislead my judgement in regard to the pending election. No man who has weighed and measured the duties of the office of President of the United States can fail to be impressed with the cares and toils of him who is to meet its demands. It is not merely to float with popular current, without a policy or purpose. On the contrary, while our Constitution gives just weight to the public will, its distinguishing feature is that it puts restraints upon power. It gives force and form to those maxims and principles of civil liberty for which the martyrs of freedom have struggled through ages. It declares the right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses and papers, against unreasonable searches and seizures; that Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people to petition for redress of grievances. It secures the right of a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury.

No man can rightfully enter upon the duties of the Presidential office unless he is not only willing to carry out the wishes of the people expressed in a constitutional way, but is also prepared to stand up for the rights of minorities. As the energy of the Democratic party springs from their devotion to their cause, and not to their candidates, I may, with propriety, speak of the fact that never in the political history of our country has the action of any like body been hailed with such universal and real enthusiasms that which has been shown in relation to the position of the National Democratic Convention. With this the candidate had nothing to do. Had any others of those named been selected, this spirit would have been, perhaps, more marked. The zeal and energy of the conservative masses spring from a desire to make a change of policy, and from the thought that they can carry out their purposes. In this faith they are strengthened by the co-operation of the great body of those who served in the Union army and navy during the war. Having given nearly 16,000 commissions to the officers of the army, I know their views and wishes. They demand the Union for which they fought. The largest meeting of these gallant soldiers ever assembled was held in New York, and endorsed the action of the National Convention in words instinct with meaning. They called on the Government to stop its policy of hate, discord and disunion, and in tones of fervid eloquence demanded the restoration of the rights of the American people. When there is such accord between those who proved themselves brave and self-sacrificing in war, and those who are thoughtful and patriotic in council, I can not doubt we shall gain a political triumph which will restore our Union, bring back peace to our land, and give once more the blessings of a wise, economical and honest Government.

I am, gentlemen, truly yours &c.,
HORATIO SEYMOUR.

THE NEWS

Cynthiana, Ky., Aug. 20, '68.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Lager Beer is cheaper in Cynthiana than in Paris. How is that Craddock?

Thos. A. Rankin sold 200 acres of land near Berry's Station, last week, to Mr. Jno. Wornal, for sixty dollars per acre.

Mr. Biddle Sharpe, of the Merchant Mills of this city is paying from $1.75 to $2 per bushel for white wheat, according to quality, with a brisk market.

Mr. Remington, the superintendent for the building of the Christian Church, informs us that the brick work commences next Monday.

W. H. Stewart and W. L. Barton killed a white crane, near Broadwell, last week, which measured 6 feet 11 inches from tip to tip.

Mr. Frank Dills has exhibited some corn stalks which measured fourteen and a half feet long. We consider this tall corn.

Judge Boyd returned from his first court since his election, in Robertson county, where he held a term of four days, with ten indictments found by the grand jury.

T. J. Megibben, Esq., is about to build a large brick warehouse, four stories high, near his distillery. It will be used to store whisky.

J. W. Peck is in the wheat trade, paying from $1.50 to $2 per bushel, according to quality.

A new Barber Saloon has been started at the Rankin House, by Prof. Gabel & Co., and any person visiting them can have their hair cut or shaved in the most approved style.

J. and A. Fennell Saddle and Harness makers, in this city, have a saddle which will be given as a premium to the best rider at our next fair in September. It is one of the finest of the kind which we have ever seen. Call at their establishment on Main street.

Mr. Green Lancy, once a citizen of this place, but now of Covington, visited Cynthiana last week, and brought a cane with him which was presented to him 35 years ago, by Joseph Desha. Mr. Lancy gave it to the family of Lucius Desha, of this county.

Mr. H. Cox gave Larkin and Wm. Garrett two dollars a bushel for two hundred bushels of extra white wheat, last week. It is calculated for seed. Wheat in this market is worth from $1.60 to $2 per bushel, according to quality.

Mr. Dill commenced removing the old brick buildings on the corner of Main and Pleasant streets, known as Thompson's corner, last Monday. Dr. McNece, we understand, is about to erect a new three-story brick block in their stead, calculated for a dwelling and business house.

Mr. Adam Reneker has burned his brick kiln, and informs us that he will commence laying the brick on his new house on Pike street, next week. So we go, and the town goes up.

A very interesting meeting has been in progress at old Union church, near Cuckertville, under the direction of Elder John A. Gano and son, and elder John I. Rogers, which has resulted in 36 additions.

We were pleased to meet yesterday, in our city, Mrs. Dr. Jno. A. Kirkpatrick, now visiting her friends in this city. We learned that the Doctor was in good health, and well pleased with Indianapolis, and the people. We hope he will visit his old home again soon.

Last autumn Dr. Dille, of this county, sent to the Shenandoah valley, Virginia, for four bushels of wheat, and sowed it on about three acres of ground. It has yielded him seventy-five bushels of as good a quality of wheat as was ever raised in Kentucky.

It would be well, if farmers, who have experienced so general a failure in the wheat crop for the last several years, would follow the example of the Dr., and improve the quality and the yield of their wheat, by securing a new and superior article. Enterprise in the farmer as well as in all other pursuits will be rewarded with success.

We learn from A. W. Lydick, Auctioneer, that on Monday last, being court day in Georgetown, there were but few sales and but few cattle on the market, and sales were dull and prices low. Horses were very dull, but a slight improvement in the mule market.

On Saturday evening last, Mr. Blake who resides near Jacksonsville, went into one of his fields with his hired man, an Irishman, to drive out some hogs, and after running considerably they become very weary and fatigued and then sat down upon the fence to rest. The Irishman, whose name we did not learn, got upon a rotten rail which broke, and precipitated him backwards, and his neck fell upon a chunk of wood and just then so seriously, that he died on Monday last.

We hear some complaint among our young men of the "base ball" persuasion to the effect that when they visited Paris the other day, they were not treated with that hospitality which the Cynthiana boys have invariably extended to the Paris boys when they come to Cynthiana—that when in Paris last Monday, they were not invited to dine. We hope that the youths of our city will see to it, that the Parisians are well treated, when they visit the city of Maidens.

The Baptist's have just closed a protracted meeting at Indian Creek, when 11 members joined the church.

On Saturday, August 8, a hail storm passed over Bracken county, from Foster's Landing to Pleasant Ridge church, and literally destroyed the tobacco crop in that section. The leaf was torn or broken off by the hail. We regret to announce this fact, as the tobacco crop in that country is the main dependence of the people.

MILLERSBURG FEMALE COLLEGE. It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that this institution is in full bloom, and will commence its next session on the 1st Monday in September. This is one of the best Female schools in Kentucky. Mr. James F. Hamilton, is President of the institution, and is assisted by Miss Mattie M. Purnell, Miss Nettie Lyons, and Miss Miranda Ross, all of whom are excellently qualified for the positions they fill. Send to Millersburg for a catalogue.

Mrs. Mary Draper, one of the most respectable ladies about Leesburg, died recently, in her 86th year. She settled in Harrison county, when only 14 years of age, bidding farewell to her old Virginia home, in her childhood. Among other things which she brought from Virginia, was a hawk-billed knife, given to her by some friends in that country. When she died she left it in the hands of Mr. Horn, her administrator, who has it in his possession at this time. That knife has been in Harrison county 73 years, and we are not able to say how long it existed in old Virginia before it fell into Mrs. Draper's hands. A piece of furniture of that age should be made respectable on account of its age.

A SERENADE.—On last Monday night, we received a visit from the Harrison Cornet Band, and in their usually excellent style performed a few pieces of their best music. We do not exaggerate when we say that we have heard but few bands who could do better, or who could give that spirit and life to music which sends an electric thrill to the heart, and make us feel that we have a heaven on earth. These young men have taken a relentless hold upon music, and they find that their efforts are successful beyond their expectations. They are assisted now by Prof. Gabel, an excellent teacher, and under his hand they show great improvement. The Harrison county Agricultural Association have employed the band for the fair. The following gentlemen compose the band: Arthur Fennell, leader; F. Gabel, Prof. of music; Thos. Eveleth, J. Fennell, C. Reickel, W. Rutherford, Joe Kimbrough, Jno. Hogg, Caleb Day, Jack West, Wish Parish, and Richard Ridgeley.

ST. PATRICK'S BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.—On Monday last, the 17th inst., Mr. Patrick McArthur died at his residence at Townsend, Harrison county. His funeral obsequies were attended by the Society on Tuesday, of which he was a respected member. This Society was formed of the members of the Catholic Church, in this place, and was organized by Father Brantz, little better than a year ago, and now numbers about 35 members. It was formed for charitable purposes—for the relief of its indigent members. It is a good and worthy Society. Solemn and High Mass was said by Father Brantz, on Tuesday morning at the church in this city, for the repose of the soul of deceased. A procession was then formed, and the Society, clothed in their regalia, led by the Harrison Cornet Band, followed the deceased to his last resting place, the Catholic Cemetery, near this city. Father Brantz accompanied the procession, and officiated at the grave. Altogether it was very imposing. On behalf of Father Brantz and the members of the Society, we return thanks to the members of the Harrison Cornet Band.

DEMOTT & WARD'S UNITED CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE.—Our readers who wish to attend an entertainment not only of an unexceptionable but a meritorious character should remember the date of Messrs. DeMott & Ward's promised visit. The establishment we have heard well spoken of, as one which fully verifies the promises made by the management upon their bills and in their advertisements. It is said to be a compact show, replete with excellent material, in all respects much better than is given in those "so-called" colossal affairs which roam through the country "full of sound and fury" signifying nothing. These young men are both first class performers and have been before the public in prominent positions long enough to be sensibly impressed with a knowledge of what kind of an exhibition would prove successful. They have got fine wagons, a neat outfit, superior horses, an excellent troupe, elegant paraphernalia, and keep all things in correct order. The procession is not tawdry, but is a fair index of "wealth of the resources" they produce inside their canvas. They have earned all they have got and are determined to win patronage by deservng it. Independent of the brilliancy of their arena and gymnastics, they present features unlike any precedents. The performing bears which rendered Old Grizzly Adams' name historical, a huge leaping buffalo, the educated bull of Hindostan, a real calf elephant (a calf, not a dwarf nor a deformity), and several den of trained lions, tigers and other ferocious felines are included in the quadruped attractions. Something new in the way of exhibition is a desideratum long looked for. The United circus and menagerie will exhibit at Cynthiana on Thursday, the 27th inst.

MARRIED.—At Clinton, Canada, on July 28, Dr. Paul Rankins to Mrs. Laura Johnson, both of this place.—Georgetown Times.

DIED.—In this city, on Sunday morning August 13, 68, Louis Shuman, age 50 years.

The following are among the specialties the management have the honor of presenting. The best stud of thorough-bred horses, The best lady riders, The best bare-back riders, The best three clowns in America, The wonderful dwarf elephant.

"FANNY," Two years old, 30 inches high, weighs 250 pounds; undoubtedly the smallest ever exhibited in any country. Prof. THOMPSON'S Great Performing Bull.

The multifarious feats of this Animal in the ring surpasses belief, and have justly been classed among the wonders of the 19th century.

Prof Geo. FOREPAUGH'S Matchless Trained Wild Animals. More trained animals exhibited to the audience than any show has ever exhibited before.

Mark the Array of Talent. Mlle Josephine Tourniare, Premiere Equestrienne and Maltese Du Cheval. Miss Caroline Ward, The "Eldin Star" of the arena. Madame DeMott, The celebrated Classic Equestrienne. Madame Carlotta, The dashing and dauntless equestrienne and "Sprite of the Ring."

Mr. J. DeMott, Whose beautiful and daring equestrian performances have gained for him the title of "Winged Mercury."

Mr. J. Ward, The model clown, jester and grotesque, the great multi-talented performer of the profession. As a slack rope performer and in plate spinning, juggling, &c., Mr. Ward acknowledges no equal.

Mr. James Myers, The genial and original jester. Mr. Charles Morgan, The celebrated trick clown. The Arabian Brothers.

The most wonderful Athletics of this or any other age—in their picturesque and agile groupings, Turbillion and vaultings. Theodore Tourniare, A prominent member of the illustrious family that have challenged the admiration of the world.

Misses Irene Carleton and Jenny Carneal, Madames Siveri, Barton, and Underhill, Messrs. LaRache, Tolenski, Henderson, Bartow and Jay.

Together with a full and competent corps of grooms, equerries, ushers and attendants. The Menagerie Department is managed by Mr. Geo. Forepaugh.

Comical troupe of Acting Bears. Herd of Japanese Sheep.

The dwarf elephant "Fanny" will be captivated at each entertainment with a Splendid Oriental Houdah, or elephant saddle, in which children from among the audience will be allowed the novelty of an Elephant ride.

The Running Bisson or Leaping Buffalo.

A real riding act, achieved upon his back by his captiver and trainer Alphonse Micardo, who will absolutely impel him over gates, bars and obstacles, constituting the most electric performance ever given in a circle.
